

Are you gasping over the Last Mile of your financial close process?

Then join Taysols and Oracle on 10 September 2009 at The Grace Hotel to hear how one of Australia's largest manufacturing and distribution companies, Crane Group, no longer struggles to get to the finish line of their financial close process.

In your 2009 year end, did you find that in the "last mile" you were:

- Over reliant on spreadsheets which were difficult to consolidate and audit?
- Spending too much time correcting errors and checking for completions?
- Finding it difficult to reconcile intercompany balances quickly?
- Realising the close process may be inadequately documented?

David Esgate, Crane's Group Financial Controller, will explain how he finally got his "last mile" of finance under control.

Since the Taysols led implementation of Oracle's performance management software, the Crane Group have seen significant productivity gains and reduced the time to create statutory and management reports from days to just hours.

Also learn about what Taysols and Oracle are doing to remove the pain from the financial close and disclosure processes, helping organisations cruise through the "last mile" of finance.
